Jep Hostetler, PhD, is an author and inspirational speaker whose presentation, “The Joy Factor,” leads audiences to discover new joy and enthusiasm in their daily work, lives and relationships. “Healing Humor” shows how developing one’s sense of humor has much to do with health and healing.

Dr. Hostetler taught at The Ohio State University’s College of Medicine for over 25 years, and is now an associate professor emeritus in the Department of Preventative Medicine. Dr. Jep, as many of his students call him, is a master teacher, inviting his audiences to consider fresh ways of looking at the foibles, joys and sorrows of life.
